Dear Mr Smith

Request for Information

Thank you for your request for information regarding unallocated callsigns. We received this request on 23 August 2013 and I have processed it under the terms of the Freedom of Information Act 2000.

You asked:

I would be very grateful if you could provide me a list of all unallocated UK amateur radio callsigns (i.e. those callsigns that would be available to anybody who has just passed a Foundation, Intermediate or Full exam).

I can confirm that Ofcom has now completed its search.

We attach a list of all unallocated UK Amateur Radio call signs which are currently¹ available for any person(s) that is eligible to apply for a UK Amateur Radio Licence. The details include:

UK Amateur Foundation Radio Licence product call sign i.e. "M6xxx" (where x represents letters which make up the call sign suffix);

UK Amateur Intermediate Radio Licence product call sign i.e. "2xAAA" (where x is the appropriate Regional Secondary Indicator within the United Kingdom and where AAA represents letters which make up the call sign suffix);

UK Amateur Full Radio Licence product call sign i.e. "M0xxx" (where x represents letters which make up the call sign suffix).

¹ This information is correct as at 15:00 on Friday 6 September 2013.

Please ensure that when using the provided information in any way, including publishing the information, you comply with all relevant legislation. For example, the information provided may be protected by copyright under the Copyright, Designs and Patents Act 1988 (as amended). If in doubt, please seek independent legal advice. For Ofcom's policy on copyright and related issues, please refer to our website at <http://www.ofcom.org.uk/disclaimer/>.

I hope this information is helpful, if not then please feel free to contact me and I'll be more than happy to pass you on to one of our experts on your subject, who should be able to provide more detail. Please quote the reference number above in any future correspondence as this will help us to deal with your query more quickly.

Yours sincerely

Alex Wyndham

If you are unhappy with the response or level of service you have received in relation to your request from Ofcom, you may ask for an internal review. If you ask us for an internal review of our decision, it will be treated as a formal complaint and will be subject to an independent review within Ofcom. We will acknowledge the complaint and inform you of the date by which you might expect to be told the outcome.

The following outcomes are possible:

- the original decision is upheld; or
- the original decision is reversed or modified.

Timing

If you wish to exercise your right to an internal review you should contact us within two months of the date of this letter. There is no statutory deadline for undertaking internal reviews and it will depend upon the complexity of the case. However, we aim to conclude all such reviews within 20 working days, and up to 40 working days in exception cases. We will keep you informed of the progress of any such review. If you wish to request an internal review, you should contact:

Graham Howell
The Secretary to the Corporation
Ofcom
Riverside House
2a Southwark Bridge Road
London SE1 9HA

If you are not content with the outcome of the internal review, you have the right to apply directly to the Information Commissioner for a decision. The Information Commissioner can be contacted at:

Information Commissioner's Office
Wycliffe House
Water Lane
Wilmslow
Cheshire
